

Justice and Fairness are:

Equality

Treating everyone the same way

Respect for the differences in others

No prejudice (no prejudging people or ideas)

No stereotyping of people of certain races, religions, or cultures

I know I am just and fair in the classroom and in school when I...

- listen to everyone's ideas
- give everyone a chance
- reach a compromise if I disagree when I'm working in a group
- use kind words when I disagree with others
- learn about different cultures, religions, and races
- respect and try to understand the differences in people
- include everyone in a group or discussion
- don't yell in disagreement, but calmly discuss differences

I know I am just and fair in the cafeteria and on the playground when I...

- include everyone in the conversation
- listen to what everyone has to say, with no put-downs
- speak kindly to all classmates
- wait my turn in line
- follow the rules of a game

I know I am just and fair at home when I...

- listen to my parents' and siblings' points of view and calmly offer my own opinion
- respect my parents' and siblings' ideas
- help out and pull my own weight

I know I am just and fair with my friends when I...

- speak kindly to them
- apologize when I'm wrong
- stand up for someone when others are intolerant
- think before saying something that could hurt others' feelings