What are the grandfather provisions approved by the board with the student assignment changes?

Students who will be in the following grades during the 2018-2019 school year have default assignments to remain at the schools in which they were enrolled the previous school year, even though the home school attendance area for their residence has changed to a different school:

- a. 5th
- b. 7th
- c. 8th
- d. 11th
- e. 12th

Students remaining in their schools through this provision are eligible for transportation. Students who wish to attend their newly assigned schools must apply through the reassignment/transfer process to exercise this option.

The above rule is not applicable for rising 5th and 7th and 8th grade students if the school to which they were previously assigned will not offer that grade level in the 2018-2019 school year. In that case, the student's default assignment will be the new home school.

Frequently Asked Questions Continued

If the student attends a school which is paired (or combined) with another school beginning with the 2018-2019 school year and the current school will not offer the student’s grade level, the default assignment will be the new home school with which the student’s previous school has been paired.

Early Enrollment in New Home Schools

Rising kindergarten, 6th and 9th grade students for the 2017-2018 school year whose school assignments will change in the 2018-2019 school year may attend the newly assigned school starting in August 2017 (a full year early). Transportation will not be offered for these students until the 2018-2019 school

Sedgefield Middle School is a Title 1 School. What happens to Title 1 funding in this transition?
